Education

- 2021-2026 PhD Candidate in Economics, New York University, New York, NY
- 2018-2019 Visiting scholar, Department of Economics, Harvard University, Boston, MA
- 2016-2020 École Normale Supérieure de Lyon, École Normale Supérieure de Lyon, Lyon, France

Research

Working Papers

- 2025 Lenoir, R. (2025). The Social Determinants of Bank Runs [Working Paper].
Motivated by the 2023 regional banking crisis, I model depositor panic as contagion spreading through social networks, showing that banks with concentrated depositor bases face amplified run dynamics.
- 2020 Lenoir, R. (2020). The Burden of Proof: Fact-Checking and Credibility in Communication Networks [Working Paper].
I study how agents strategically use fact-checking commitments in communication networks, revealing who bears the burden of establishing trust for information transmission.

Work in Progress

- 2025 Lenoir, R. (2025). The Heterogeneous Impact of Banking Integration [Work in Progress].
- 2024 Lenoir, R. (2024). Relationship Dynamics in OTC Markets [Work in progress].
